ABOUT ME

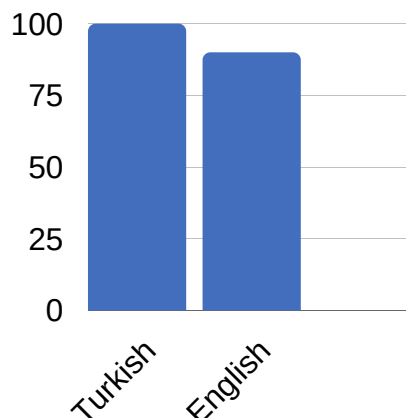

Hey,

My name is Abdullah. I am really interested in coding. I am studying in Ankara Yıldırım Beyazıt University. I can work when I am studying in university. I just go for the exams. My department is International Relations, but please don't be prejudiced about my department. I really worked hard to learn things, and I generally better than the engineers. I make projects with JS, CSS, and HTML. I am really curious about the new technologies like React. I started to learn, but I realised that I should know JS really well to write better components in React. I started to learn JS more deeply after that. I am a quick learner, and I am not shy to ask questions. If I need help, I am not shy to ask for help. My cominication skills are perfect. I am energetic and responsible. I was working in a cafe because of my financial problems. In that period I started to learn coding. I am learning for 2 years, and writing actively for 8 months. If you give a chance to prove myself, you will never be regretful.
